

Dear parent(s),

We're a month into the school year already! It's amazing how the time is racing on, the nights are beginning to draw in, and the children are already achieving so much in their learning.

I was especially delighted to see how welcoming and kind the children were towards our new family who came to visit on Monday. We are thrilled that they are joining us, having come such a long way to become a part of our school community. I know that you will join us in giving the family a big Trannack welcome when the children start within the next week or two.

I hope you all have a lovely weekend.

All the best,

Mr Boyes

Half Term & INSET Day – The last day of this half term is Friday 23rd October. Children return to school on Tuesday 3rd November as Monday 2nd is an INSET day.

Parent Consultation Evenings – These will commence week beginning 12th October. Please keep an eye out for the booking system to be opened on Arbor from Monday next week.

Fundraising:

- Our next community/fundraising event will be a sponsored walk, which will be held on Sunday 18th October weather permitting. Please look out for further details, including how to collect sponsorship, to be announced ASAP!
- The FTS are looking for good condition, clean, soft toys for another Teddy Tombola please, which we will be holding at the Helston Fatstock show on Saturday 14th November.
- We will also be holding a Santa Run on Tuesday 15th December

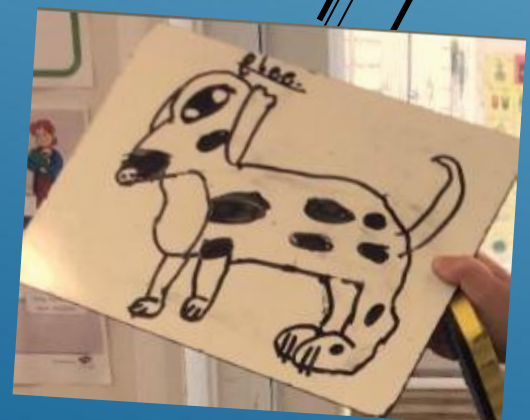

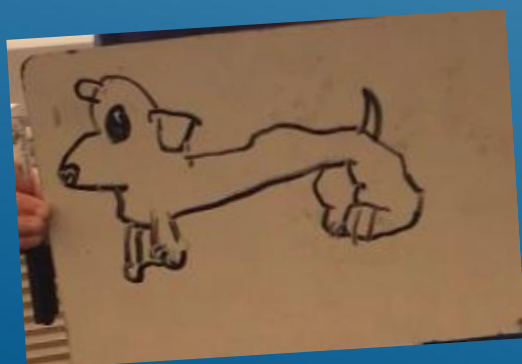

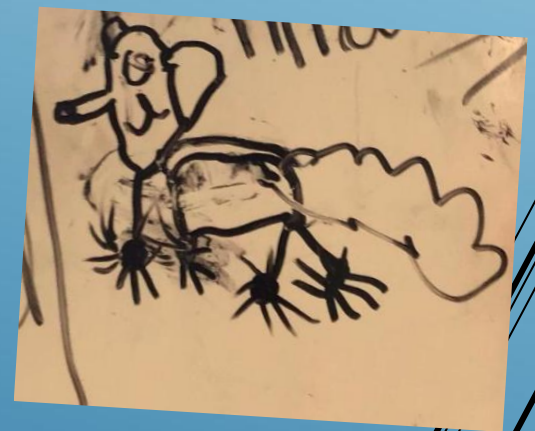

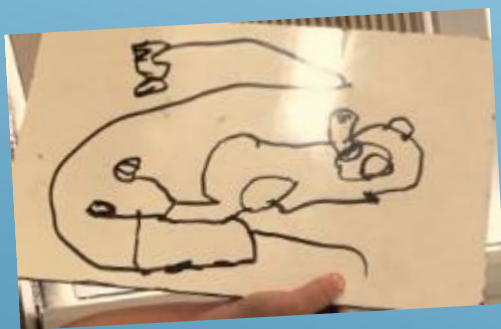

School Meals – The online school meal ordering is going well; thank you to those families who are ordering in advance. We ask that families who haven't managed to order to please try and do so. Unfortunately, if orders aren't placed children may not always get what they would prefer to eat.

Reading Matters!

For parents of children in Praa Sands (and those in Godrevy who are still learning phonics), it is extremely important that the children are supported in practising the sounds they are learning by reading their phonics book to an adult each day, as well as reading picture and chapter books for pleasure!

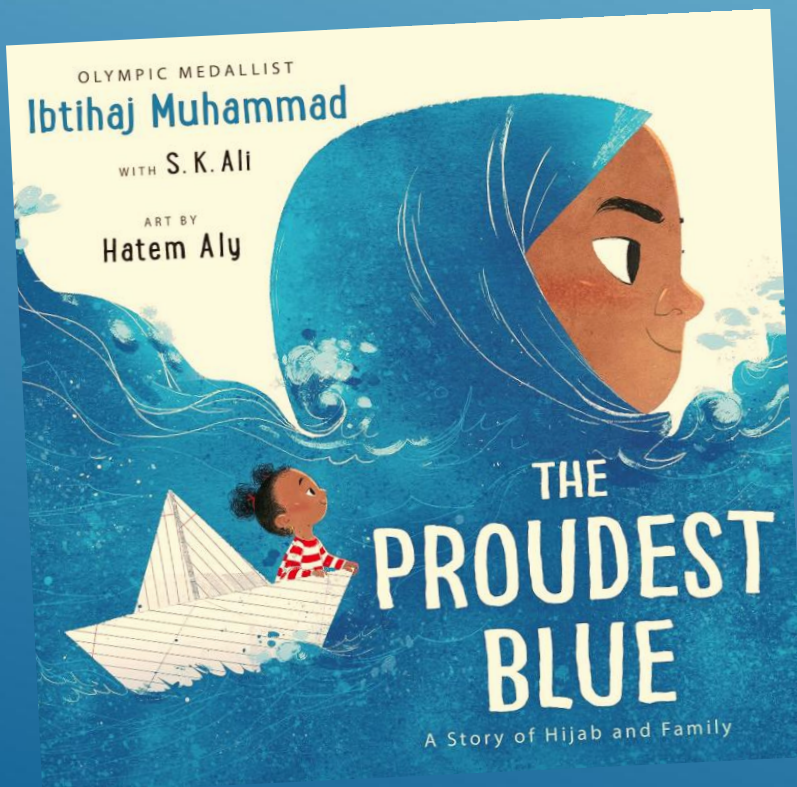

For the children in Godrevy, it is equally important that they are reading at home every day. The children have a school Accelerated Reader book that is aligned with their current reading stage. The children choose books within their 'band' which they at least need to read at school, but they can also read anything of their own choosing at home!

Praa Sands Class have been listening to the story The Proudest Blue by Ibtihaj Muhammad

An uplifting story about being proud of who you are, from the olympic medallist fencer Ibtihaj Muhammad, the first Muslim American woman in hijab to compete for the USA in the Olympics.

Well done for reading four times this week!
